

STRIKE CALLED IN EFFORT TO SAVE ITALIANS

Syndicalists in Italy Take Up
Cause of Countrymen in Lawrence Prison.

ROME, Sept. 7.—As a means of forcing King Victor's government to make representations at Washington in behalf of the two Italians, Ettore and Giovanni, imprisoned in Lawrence, Mass., on a murder charge growing out of the recent labor troubles there, syndicalists throughout Italy are organized for a monster strike, paralyzing industry all over the country.

The Ettore and Giovanni case has been causing the most intense feeling in Italy for some time. In parliament Deputies Chissari, a Republican; Todreca and Carino, Socialists; Meda, a Clerical; and Avanti, a Socialist-Democrat, recently demanded that the Rome government make the matter an international issue. Though no action was taken, there is no question that the demand was supported by an overwhelming majority of the people.

Newspaper Comment.
The newspapers have published columns of accounts of the case, radical and conservative journals alike, declaring, substantially as La Tribuna illustrates it, that Ettore and Giovanni are the victims of the capitalists who provoked the strike at Lawrence, Mass., by terrible conditions.

Another newspaper, L'Internazionale, appeals to syndicalists throughout Europe to make the case their own. The Corriere Della Sera, the Corriere Italia and the Secolo are among other newspapers which have expressed themselves similarly.

Numerous posters have been scattered broadcast calling on workmen to join in the movement in their countrymen's behalf. Many labor leaders are urging demonstrations before the various American consulates in Italy, protesting against the treatment of Ettore and Giovanni by the Massachusetts authorities. News has been received from Brussels that a similar agitation has been started there.

In the Italian government's attitude there has apparently been no change since Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs Prince D'Alema stated in parliament that the foreign office had confined itself to instructing the Italian consul in Boston to see that Ettore and Giovanni were treated with all the rights of counsel and that they received a fair trial.

Demand American Unions Take Up Fight for the Two Imprisoned Italians

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—While William D. Haywood, leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, today was on his way to Chicago to enlist the aid of unions there in the proposed Ettore and Giovanni general strike, to be called for September 30, members of the Greater New York Industrial Council of the Industrial Workers of the World, were preparing for a great Ettore-Giovanni demonstration here September 14.

Alleged Swindler Has Prison Career

HARRY A. EAVES, held on a charge of obtaining $325 from two Washington automobile dealers by means of alleged worthless checks, has served six years in Folsom, Cal., penitentiary for forgery, according to information received by the Washington police today.

The New York police telephoned the detective bureau that their records show that Eaves, under the name of William Ennis, was arrested in San Francisco February 1, 1906, and following March he was sentenced to Folsom for six years, being discharged in 1910.

According to Eaves' own statement to the police, he has passed checks in half a dozen different cities. The police have sent out photographs and measurements of the man with a view of getting his full record.

No support Charge Is Cause of Arrest

BENJAMIN F. POOLE, a painter, thirty years old, who is alleged to have deserted his wife and two children in this city about a month ago, was brought to Washington by Detective Cox today from Pittsburgh, where he was arrested on a charge of non-support.

Poole is said to have been living in Pittsburgh under the name of Lee. He told Detective Cox that he left Washington because he was unable to obtain employment and was forced to leave Pittsburgh to look for work. The detective says he was told, however, that Poole had not been working in Pittsburgh.

The family formerly lived at 3613 N. street, Georgetown.

Washington Bankers to Attend 1912 Convention

Washington's delegation to the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association will leave the city this evening, joining the "Bankers' Special" at Harrisburg, and reach Detroit near noon tomorrow.

In the party will be President George W. White of the National Metropolitan Bank; President Ashton G. Clapham of the Commercial National Bank; and Vice President W. J. Plummer of the Riggs National Bank. President Cox of the Second National, may go with the party. George W. White is the candidate of the District Bankers' Association for a vice presidency, and will, in all probability, be honored with election.

Mrs. White and Mrs. Clapham accompany the Washington party.

Held for Grand Jury.

Charged with the embezzlement of $6 from a sewing machine company, Clarence E. McMullen, a salesman, twenty-eight years old, pleaded not guilty when arraigned in the United States branch of the Police Court today and was held in $5,000 bond for the action of the grand jury. Attorney David Wolf appeared for the defendant, and arranged for bond, whereupon McMullen was immediately released.

CAREFUL PLANS ELOPEMENT FOILED

Alexandria Police Help Congress Heights Father to Capture Couple in Union Station—Girl Is Not Fifteen Years Old.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ALEXANDRIA, VA., SEPT. 7, 1912.

A carefully planned elopement was averted by the father of the bride last night, when G. E. Armeal, of Congress Heights, D. C., caused the detention by the police of Alec Sloat, aged twenty-two, living at Front Royal, who was on his way to that city, where his marriage to pretty Ella May Armeal was to have taken place.

The girl, who is but fifteen years old, had left her home yesterday afternoon, in company with young Sloat, and with the idea of eluding the Capital police, had walked down the river on the Maryland side for several miles.

Arriving at a point opposite Belmont, in Fairfax county, they were rowed across the stream, and took an electric car for Alexandria, then went to the Union Station where they were to board a train for Front Royal.

Instead, however, they ran into the arms of Police Sergeant William Wilkinson, who, in company with Mr. Armeal, was waiting at the station. At police headquarters, where a conference was held with Chief C. T. Goods, the father absolutely refused to listen to the marriage of the couple. While speaking very highly of Sloat, he objected on account of his daughter's age. She later consented to accompany him back to Washington, while young Sloat sadly departed for his home.

Mr. Armeal stated that he had "got wind" of the elopement and pursued the same route as the young couple, also rowing across the river, arriving in time to head them off.

The several suits filed against the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York by policyholders, following the death of E. Flet Board, Alexandria and Washington capitalist, will come to trial before Judge J. B. T. Thornton in the circuit court for the city on Wednesday next. The suits are as follows:

Jessie P. Board, widow of the deceased, for $7,000; the Board-Armstrong Company of this city, for $17,000, and the Board Motor Truck Company, of this city, for $12,000.

This action comes as a result of the refusal of the life insurance company to pay the claims of the policyholders. Mr. Board's mangled body was found at the foot of a water tower on the farm where he was visiting relatives at Wake Forest, N. C., last spring. It was at first reported that he had committed suicide, but this was later denied, it being explained that he had climbed the apparatus in order to make repairs, and had probably mistakenly stepped and plunged to his death.

Board was at the head of a number of enterprises located both here and in

"I Wouldn't Look Like That Again for All the World."

"By George, I never saw anything like the effect that new treatment, Protone, for building up weight and lost nerve force. It acted more like a miracle than a medicine, said a well-known gentleman, in speaking of the revolution that had taken place in his condition. 'I began to think that there was nothing on earth that could make me fat. I tried tonic, digestive, heavy eating, diets, milk, beer, and almost everything else you could think of, but without result. I had been thin for years, and began to think it was natural for me to be that way. Finally I read about the remarkable successes brought about by the use of Protone, so I decided to try it myself. Well, when I looked at myself in the mirror now, I think regular somebody else. I have put on just 30 pounds during the last month and never felt stronger or more 'nervy' in my life.'"

Protone is a powerful inducer of nutrition, increases cell-growth, makes perfect the assimilation of food, increases the number of blood corpuscles, and, as a necessary result, builds up muscles and solid, healthy flesh and rounds out the figure.

For women who can never appear stylish in anything they wear because of their thinness, this remarkable treatment is a revelation. It is a beauty maker, as well as a form builder and nerve strengthener.

GO TO CONVENTION AT ATLANTIC CITY

Spanish War Veterans From District Will Attend Meeting.

A special train carrying more than 300 Spanish War Veterans of the District left the Union Station at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon for Atlantic City, where the ninth annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans convened this morning.

In the party there are twenty-five veterans named as delegates to represent the local camps. The others are going to attend the encampment.

The Rev. J. D. Bloodgood, department commander of the District of Columbia, G. A. R., will accompany the younger veterans. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Bloodgood.

The Atlantic City encampment is of especial interest because of two interesting matters that will come up there for discussion. A petition will be presented asking for a charter for a new camp Washington which will take the name of "M. Emmett Trell." An effort probably will be made to have the next encampment held in Washington. Jere A. Costello, department commander, will head the local delegation of veterans.

A Bird's Eye View of Washington Taken from a Dining Room Window of a High View Home.

"Hello, Grace,
What are you doing
this hot weather?"
"It isn't hot up
here, my dear.
Remember, we live in 'High-View'."

BEING above the oppressive heat of the city is but one of the many advantages of the location of High View. The elevation above Pennsylvania Avenue is 171 feet.

High View is just as desirable from the standpoint of the convenience of its location—residents enjoy the choice of two double track car lines, are one square to the east and the other one square to the west of them.

Then there's the character of the neighborhood to be considered. High View is a refined residence section in the fullest sense of the word. Surrounding homes range from $5,000 upward in value.

HIGH VIEW Homes Set a New Standard of Value

Price, $3,300

Cash, $200--Monthly, $26.92 (Including all interest)

High View homes were built from the standpoint of architectural beauties. But comfort and convenience were not sacrificed for art. On the contrary, there has been a combining of the two to an extent never before equaled in a home selling under $5,000.

Is it any wonder that these High View homes have been finding owners faster than the builders can construct them?

A few more High View homes are about ready for immediate occupancy. The last time we made such an announcement it was quickly taken advantage of by wise purchasers, while those less fortunate were compelled to wait for the completion of the home they purchased. You will do well to act accordingly, and see these homes now while you have the opportunity to become the immediate owner of one.

TO INSPECT

Take any G street car marked "Brookland" or "North Capitol and W streets," get off at Rhode Island Avenue and walk one square east.

The owners have under course of construction more of these homes. It will be several months before they are completed.

If you haven't the necessary $200 first payment to put into one of the homes now ready for immediate occupancy, you can have us reserve one of the next lot for you by arranging to make us small monthly payments. In this way, by the time the homes are ready for occupancy, you will have saved enough to make the first payment. After that all you need pay is $26.92 per month, which applies directly on the home, including all interest.

Measure the distance and you will find that High View is nearer the city's business center than fashionable Dupont Circle.
